

Since Indiana enacted the telephone privacy act, our family mealtime and evenings have been focused on what family time should be....not annoying and disruptive external interruptions!! Telephone solicitations are one of the most irritating invasions of privacy...do not change Indiana's much appreciated law in any way. Thank you.